

Website Recommendation List for Homeschool Familie

Blooket (blooket.com)

- Create your own set of questions, import a set using the converter tool, or find a set that fits your needs in their database for free, fun review or practice in game format!

Core Knowledge (<https://www.coreknowledge.org/>)

- Free materials, curriculum, and resources are available on this website for several different grade levels and topics!

GoNoodle (gonoodle.com)

- This website offers several interactive movement and mindfulness brain breaks!

Ida Public Library Website (idapubliclibrary.org)

- Your library card can unlock so many great resources on the Ida Public Library website. Got to idapubliclibrary.org > resources > EBSCO Learning Express to use skill building resources, practice tests, college & career preparation, and more!

Khan Academy (<https://www.khanacademy.org/>)

- Khan Academy provides free educational content in the form of instructional videos and practice exercises covering different subjects including math, chemistry, physics, science, arts, humanities and many more!

Khan Academy Kids (app only)

- Free, fun educational app for children ages 2 - 8! You can assign several different lessons and track their progress, assign readings, print offscreen activities, and more. This app offers SO much!
- NO ADS & NO SUBSCRIPTION

Illinois PBS Learning Media (<https://illinois.pbslearningmedia.org/>)

- Create a FREE account to unlock standards-aligned videos, interactives, lesson plans, and more just for Illinois teachers and Homeschool Families!

Midway Village (midwayvillage.com)

- Go to Midway Village's website - click on learn and access free educator resources, free activity downloads, homeschooling resources and more!

MobyMax (<https://www.mobymax.com/>)

- This paid program provides differentiated learning and lessons for individuals K-8th grade in areas of math, early reading, reading, language, writing, science, and social studies. Comes with a 30 day free trial.

Mystery Science (<https://mysteryscience.com/>)

- "Open and Go" science lessons and mini lessons to encourage a love for science!

Next Gen Personal Finance (ngpf.org and ngpf.org/arcade/)

- This website has curriculum and lessons in the areas of personal finance, career planning, managing credit, and more! The games in the "arcade" section include budgeting, investing, insurance, etc. The games take the individual through different choices and reveal different potential outcomes.

Outschool (outschool.com)

- Outschool is an education platform that offers a huge variety of engaging, small-group classes online in a wide range of topics. Prices per class vary!

Prodigy (prodigygame.com)

- This popular literacy and math game website has both free and paid membership options that allow your child to go on a magical quest of epic adventures all while practicing math or literacy skills!
- Provides progress monitoring, parent dashboards, encouraging messages & more!

Science Bob (<https://sciencebob.com/>)

- Explore different experiments, diy projects, research help, and videos from a former science teacher who is passionate about sharing the world of science!

Smithsonian Science Education Center (<https://ssec.si.edu/>)

- The Smithsonian SEC website has games, free resources, curriculum and more!

Teach Your Monster to Read (teachyourmonster.org)

- This free program has some fun numeracy and literacy skills on both the website and the app!

TEDEd (ed.ted.com)

- Watch video based lessons organized by subject, theme and age.

Typing Games (<https://www.typing.com/student/games>)

- This website has some fun typing games to increase speed and accuracy when typing!

Xtra Math

- This online program is great for supporting math fact fluency! There are free and family plans (costing around $2 a child).